Sale Manager

Fellow Shorthorn & Polled Shorthorn Breeders:

It was indeed a pleasure to be asked to manage the annual fall sale of the Illinois Polled Shorthorn Association. Illinois is the heartland of the breed, the Illinois State Fair is always the largest show of the breed and the combined Associations have the largest number of active breeders of any in the country.

I feel that this offering is one of the best ever put forward at this event. During the first planning session for this sale, it was decided to accept a few outstanding Horned cattle for the very first time. There are cattle to suit the most discriminating, whether you are looking for a herd sire, foundation females or winners at next year's shows.

Shorthorns and Polled Shorthorns are leading the way back to sound, useful cattle that are not only highly productive, but efficient converters of roughage with the bred-in ability to grade at younger ages and lighter weights.

I urge you to be in attendance, Saturday, December 6. Come early and view the show that will be judged by Barry Jordan, one of the most progressive, young breeders in the land and the youngest person ever to be named a "Builder of the Breed." You will also want to renew acquaintances with Bruce Brooks, former fieldman for the American Shorthorn Association, who is now one of the fastest rising, young auctioneers in the country.

If I can be of any service to you, please do not hesitate to call on me or any member of my staff. Looking forward to seeing you in Macomb.

Sincerely,
CAGWIN CATTLE SERVICES, INC.
